WE ARE OPTICA PUBLISHING GROUP

Formerly OSA

Connecting the global optics and photonics community through our high-quality content

In September 2021, The Optical Society (OSA) changed its name to Optica, the Society advancing optics and photonics worldwide. Our Society's new name honors our legacy, is true to our present, and embraces our future. With the change to the Society's name comes a change to the publishing program's name too. We are now Optica Publishing Group. To learn more about our Society's name change, visit optica.org/brand.

GLOBAL REACH.

Uniting scientists, students, engineers, and professionals, Optica Publishing Group brings together the global optics and photonics community through our high-quality publishing program. Using our best-in-class publishing infrastructure, authors, reviewers, and readers from around the world can easily submit their manuscripts, and become certified and earn rewards for participating in the peer review process. They can also discover, read, and, in the case of our rapidly expanding number of conference videos, listen to our published content.

HIGHEST QUALITY.

Scientists regularly turn to our content to meet their research needs. Since 1917, we have been publishing seminal research in optics and photonics, including the findings of thought leaders, Nobel Prize winners, and inventors who have changed the technological landscape in our field.

MOST ARTICLES AND CITATIONS.

Our platform contains more than 400,000 articles from 19 publications, as well as thousands of conference papers and videos from more than 835 meetings.

We are proud that our collection of flagship, partnered, and co-published peer-reviewed journals continue to receive the most citations (38%) and publish the largest number of articles (33%) in the field of optics and photonics.

NEW PRODUCTS AND POLICY

NEW INTEGRATED CONFERENCE PAPER AND VIDEO INTERFACE

In early 2021, we launched a new interface on our publishing platform that displays all conference papers from our meetings alongside the associated conference video presentations. This new integrated interface provides users with options for easily discovering and accessing the pioneering work that has been presented by leaders in the field at the more than 50 meetings the Society undertakes each year. Access to the conference paper and video content is available to subscribers of the Optics InfoBase and Optics InfoBase Premium packages. Standalone subscriptions are also available to this content. See Page 19 for details.

NEW ARCHIVAL E-BOOKS AVAILABLE

Starting in January 2022, we will be offering a collection of ten archival optics and photonics e-books as part of the Optics InfoBase and Optics InfoBase Premium subscription packages as well as for individual sale. Visit opg.optica.org/books for a title list. See Page 19 for details.

A TITLE CHANGE

Our Gold Open-Access title, OSA Continuum, will become Optics Continuum effective with the 2022 volume. The Journal's new ISSN will be 2770-0208, and its URL will be opg.optica.org/optcon. COUNTER reports will reflect this change in January 2022. See Page 11.

EXTENDED BACKFILE PROGRAM CONTINUES—YEARS OF COMPLIMENTARY ACCESS CHANGING

As a reminder, our single-title subscription pricing includes access to newly published articles in 2022 plus complimentary access to a portion of the backfile. For the 2022 subscription year, complimentary access for all single-title subscriptions will include content from 2012 to 2021 (instead of back to 2010 as with all 2021 subscriptions). For those interested in providing their patrons with access to content prior to 2012, there are a few different options. Subscribers can either upgrade to one of our package products and receive complimentary access to the entire backfile for all titles in that package, lease the applicable backfile or acquire one of our Digital Archive products. For more information on our myriad Digital Archive products, see Pages 17–18.

Print journal subscribers in all other countries will receive their subscription(s) via consolidated air freight, except for Canada where they are sent via ground transportation to Canada Post for final delivery. Due to the ongoing pandemic, we may need to change or cease shipping from time to time. Subscribers will be notified of changing shipping policies as and when they happen and when they can expect to receive print issues being held.

Claims

Due to the ongoing pandemic, delivery of print issues has been delayed from time to time. As a result of these delivery delays, we have temporarily extended our claims policy such that missing issue claims will be honored if they are received within four months of the publication date for a specific issue of an individual journal. Please allow 10-12 weeks for print copies to arrive at your library before submitting a claim to us at claims@optica.org. Please first check our Librarian Resources Website for updates on this policy, especially as it relates to the end date for the temporary extension.

Cancellations/Refunds

Requests for refunds will be reviewed on an individual basis and, if approved, will be prorated based on the number of unfulfilled issues in the calendar year. Cancellation requests must be received within 90 days of receipt of the order (whether direct or via subscription agent). Refunds are subject to a $100.00 USD cancellation fee per title cancelled.
